

Other Interjections Kanye West Can No Longer Keep to Himself

by Baron von Funny

Rapper/singer/possibly deranged person Kanye West made headlines again this week after interrupting an MTV Video Music Awards acceptance speech by singer Taylor Swift for Best Female Video, grabbing the microphone to declare that Beyonce, whose "Single Ladies" video was also up for the same award, made "one of the best videos of all time." Now that the floodgates are open, Kanye has a lot more he'd like to say...
