

Other Demands Made By Paul Ryan

by Baron von Funny

At a press conference this week, Rep. Paul Ryan (R-Wis.) told House Republicans that he would agree to run for Speaker of the House, but only if certain conditions were met. The stipulations included: Republicans will stop being "an opposition party;" Republicans need to "update House rules so everyone can be a more effective representative;" the House Republican conference needs to unify "now;" and that Ryan will not be asked to give up time with his family. But those weren't the only conditions...
